Due to the nature of group classes and ensembles, there are no makeups or credits for missed classes. Late start students and intermediate classes require instructor approval to complete enrollment.

Additional materials, such as an instrument, books, a metronome, tuner, uniforms, travel expenses, a device with an internet connection, or other tools may be required for a complete experience and are not included in the tuition cost. Most materials are available for purchase locally through Ted Brown Music or according to instructor recommendation.

The tuition fee may be paid by cash or check, or by card online after account setup. All card payments are subject to a convenience fee. A payment is due with this form to complete registration and reserve the student's spot. There are no refunds after registration. If minimum enrollment is not met, students will be given the option to apply tuition cost toward another class date/time or, if no other class options are available, toward private lessons (monthly prices vary).
